

College Success Tips

Tips for Being Successful

- Be sure you bring your NU ID to campus.
- Keep organized—use a planner, phone calendar or other method for keeping track of assignments and meetings.
- Get involved! Join 1-2 student organizations first semester. If you join 2 groups, join one that is related to your major and another that's just something you enjoy.
- GO TO CLASS!
- Stay on top of your assignments. Work ahead as much as possible—don't wait until the night before an assignment is due.
- At the first sign you don't understand, seek help. Where?
 - Professor's office hours
 - Help centers, such as the Math Resource Center
 - Center for Academic Success and Transition (success.unl.edu)
- Work with your academic advisor at least once every semester. (First semester you may want to meet with him/her more than once.)

Advisor Relationships

- What is an academic advisor?
 - You will have a person assigned who will provide individualized advising and guidance throughout your college career
- Why should I meet with my advisor?
 - Keeps your education on track
 - Personalize your academic path
 - Align career plans with academic opportunities
- Connect with your advisor
 - NSE Advisor may not be your permanent advisor
 - Meet with your advisor within the first couple weeks of school

Get Connected

- CASNR Student Activities
 - CASNR Launch: Thursday before school starts
 - Welcome Back Club Fair: Thursday after school starts
- Megan's Insider Connections
- Social Media
 - Facebook: UNL College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources
 - Twitter: @UNL_CASNR @TiffanyHengMoss
 - Instagram: UNL_CASNR
 - Next@Nebraska

